

Politic Idioms

Be Strange bedfellows: This phrase can be used when two people are opposite each other but they need to work together for a common purpose.

Lame duck: It is used for people who cannot fulfill the given job and who have reached the end of their duties. This man is lame duck.

Spin doctor: This phrase can be used to name news referring specialists or pro-government people.

Politically correct: Political correctness of all work done has been accepted.

Witch hunt: It is a smear policy applied against opposing ideas in power.

(Commit) Political suicide: These men are putting their political lives at risk.

Caught red - handed: He was caught red-handed last night, we watched family television in the evening.

Five - finger discount: If we talk about a shop theft, we can use this phrase.