

Dog Idioms

Rain cats and dogs: It means very heavy rain.

Dogs - and - pony show: It is used in movements to attract someone's attention.

Fight like cat and dog: We can use this phrase when we want to indicate fighting like a cat and dog.

The tail wags the dog: It means that the most insignificant part affects the most important part.

Every man and his dog: It refers to a large number of people. If we want to talk about a very crowded environment, we can use this phrase.

Go to the dogs: When we want to indicate the infamous phrase in a sentence, we should use the phrase 'go to the dogs'.

My dogs are barking: It means moving feet or walking until you get tired. Our feet hurt from standing for a long time and we can express this with this phrase.