

Using As for

- ‘As for’ is used to deal with a situation in English separately from other situations.
- ‘As for’ is frequently preferred to state one’s thoughts and opinions about the situation.

Example Sentences

- And as for sleeping pills, there’s a old drug this doesn’t have such strong complication and side effects. You will give me 35 tablets at 20 milligrams.
- A school is no school unless it contain fire and food for the mind as well as for the body.
- Food is as good for these who give it as for these who receive food. It has the admirable enough of bestowing thanks on both sides. (Victor Hugo)
- As for Jelly, she fell to trembling and ultimately was shaken with doubt as with an ague.
- Good? It’s all a query of luck. I used to be born with just right legs. As for the rest... Good, no. Amusing, no. (Antony Baker)
- Love waits alike for the free woman as well as for her enslaved by another’s might.